THOS. WHITE'S BUDGET IN COMMITTEE STAGE

BY H. F. G.

Finance Minister White's budget is now in the committee stage, where numerous holes are being plucked in it. The Finance Minister's proposals fail to meet the opposition's criticisms, which are well founded. The time has come when they exceed the requirement of legitimate business, which considers itself overtaxed in proportion to the war profit. These considerations naturally keep Sir Thomas busy hopping out of the frying pan into the fire and back again. Already both his ears are burned from overheating angry remonstrances.

"Selling Tom" appears to be a considerable pastime in Canada just now. Every train brings to Ottawa, large, portly men, with big gold watch chains who are bent on convincing the Finance Minister that any sound system of taxation is based on intelligent exceptions. "Don't it do to me?" is their cry, and truth to tell Sir Thomas is not doing too well in his efforts to make himself heard. How long will the citizens of Canada stay and pay when they agree to the United States is so easy? Canada is not like Australia, a marooned island in the southern ocean, or like South Africa, six thousand miles from nowhere. When we have been forced to leave Canada it is easy enough to get out, and to answer all those questions is found in the famous remark of Nicholson, M.P., a hearty supporter of the Government—the policy is to "dash alone."

Incidentally Verville, the labor member from Montreal, presented a point of view which demands attention. Why, he asked, if this Government is tender towards the poor man, doesn't it get after the Bread Trust which is responsible for the high cost of living? Significantly he is less glib than the rest of us, and the wind will be appreciably tempered to the short ram before the budget resolutions take their final shape. With everybody trying to use him for his own purposes the Finance Minister feels as promiscuous as a sleeping cat, unmarked.

No doubt Sir Thomas knows what is in store for his budget. He built it to catch voices and it succeeds only by catching hell. He went on the principle that where there's fly-paper there are flies, but the flies don't seem to behave according to program. He proposed to cut his garment according to his cloth and then overdid it by stating that he would not tax the rich—poverty was the word he used. Almost in the same breath he announced that he was butting for perhaps twenty-two millions more than the Government reckoned to spend because—well, to suggest his real reason, because the taxing was good and a Conservative government always likes to feel that it has money to blow.

This is the budget of the Pedigree Son whose story I never read without thinking of the poor little calf which was sacrificed to give him a good feed. The poor little calf in this case is the Dominion of Canada. So far as the common people are concerned this is a false, pickled heart to clinch, but his real attempt to fit the poor with a pigtail something to eat. It's worse than that—it's Christian Science trying to cure a Manx cat's scandal deficiencies by absent treatment. It does a little good, it can for the people with as much noise as possible.

If Government wants to help the fury, why doesn't it, as Mr. Oliver pointed out, let the Canadian farmer buy the flour of free wheat instead of letting the grain rot on the ground sooner than see it get away from a highly protected little band of Canadian millers? As a matter of fact it would help the manufacturers of the east if the farmers of the west had more money to buy their products, but this is a very clever political trick, and that's fair. For surely we have a great task from Arthur Meighen who apprehends that the wheat would lose its ideal to south of the line. As if the wheat cared! Do Canadian fish when they swim over the border refuse to accept the price they bring in the American market? I simply because the fish looks different!

So far Mr. Oliver's questions have not been answered—why does this Government persist in the policy of high taxation and restricted trade which nearly sent Canada to the dogs previous to 1890? Why does it slaugher the free wheat resolution by three-quarters of its working majority? Why does it not tax the rich? Why does it increase the taxation burden on the Canadian people by severely live million dollars in four years—said Canadian people being less numerous than they were in 1911 and the country proportionately less prosperous? Why does it go on overtaxing instead of cutting out waste and extravagance?

Why doesn't it retreat? Why, for instance just one sample case mentioned by Mr. Lemire, does it have two hundred and fifty Post Office employees? Quebec, which is the seat of Sir George's government, says the House that Sir George was an advocate of conservation in Canada and tawdest old Bourbon of the north. Some of Sir George's own friends admit that this top-toy indifference to human error gets their goat. They express the opinion that this is what is wrong with the Canadian old hostiles who remained in the Green Chamber they will have from Sir George less philosophy and more party support. Sergeant J. S. Proven
Writes Interesting Letter

The following very interesting letter was received last week by W. M. Knight, from Sergeant J. S. Proven, who is fighting in the trenches in France:

France, February 12, 1916.

Dear Mr. Knight:

I am writing you this evening from the trenches, our position is now in a few weeks rest several miles behind the firing line. Yesterday I got a pass to go and see Sam Bryan and

Bill Pritchard, and found them in the afternoon, after walking about seven miles. They have never moved from the billet they were when I saw them

five months ago, and they are looking

well and seem to be having a good

time.

But, what I really started to write about, was as incident of the return journey.

I stopped in a little French town,

half way home to supper and walked a ways. Yesterday I got a pass to go and see Sam Bryan and

Bill Pritchard, and found them in the

afternoon, after walking about seven

miles. They have never moved from

the billet they were when I saw them

five months ago, and they are looking

well and seem to be having a good

time.

When he said he came from Saul

St. Marie, I of course asked him if he had known anyone called Knight.

(He directed into his pocket and produced two photographs of yourself. I think Hal was his name at least it sounded like that.) I asked him if he had any news that I might be interested in.

He said he had none, but he did say that he was an ex-comic.

Finally he resolved to earn a living diabolically.

With the aid of a clever criminal lawyer who shows her the loop holes of jury procedure she amasses a fortune and yet not harm the law.

It is a great deal of water.

There are higher peaks to climb,

but the first is the most difficult.

He is a man of great energy and will power, but keeps you in suspense, and often unkindly comedy

which has been professed by "British Law" than by any other American drama ever written. An opportunity will be given to witness this great play by a capable cast at Clares-holm Opera House on Saturday night.

Life in the trenches now is one long dream of bliss compared with those days when we worked both day and night in the rain ranges of the rain.

Silence and "tents" in the mud,

and dugouts filling in almost daily,

left us sometimes homeless for several days. Now the trenches are in good shape, and we have built lots of dugouts, larger and more modern than the old ones. Maybe I had better describe one of our trench palaces, in which we live most comfortably.

It's walls are made of logs and gated iron. Inside it is seven feet wide and six long enough for six feet tall must sleep with his feet out beyond the opening that answers the purpose of a doorway at the back is four feet high sloping forward to three feet at the front. We decided to build a window with a log frame

and one pane beside us and sat down

watching the sun set over the sea.

Within the darkness of the trenches with his head puffed up for word or for rather pill for pill while the poor infantry stand helpless

watching the fireworks, most of it too close to be comfortable. They throw everything at us that has been invented in destruction and hell.

It is a hellish place as nothing else is, but when it is quiet and still it is surprisingly comfortable. It is so close to the ground that you can't even sit up in it.

Alberta Banks Loan Money on Grain

Farmers Unable to Get it Marketed and Competitive Service

Since the analysis of the grain market and the existing conditions when the banks were asked to loan money on grain, the banks of Alberta are loaning a great deal of money to the grain farmers. The banks have been loaning the privately owned bins of the farm, and the grain information learned from the premises.

"Farmers the banks have not been able to get the grain marketed, so they are loaning on grain, as permitted by section 88 of the Bank Act, but lately

"Does a man, in the very nature of things, Justice to the old and turned twenty?" a warning sister division.

"I hope not, and yet, in thinking of neutrals, I can't help thinking of the old and turned twenty, who had watched an enormous nerve raised to a seepage."

"The boy watched the safe rise above him, and when it reached the wire rope, and when it reached the twentieth, the older lad turned away in disgust.

"Come on, Joe," he said. "We might as well move on. They aren't going to let me drop." —Washington Star.

Stormy Weather

Hard on Baby

The stormy weather which we have during February and March is extremely hard on children. Children are more liable to catch colds than adults, and the weather is cold which makes it difficult for them to sleep.

Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose taken to prevent the colds from getting worse.

Minard's Liniment will keep the colds from getting worse and will help to bring down the temperature.

The colds will go away in a few days or may at 25 cents a tablet.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine, 100 tablets, cost 25 cents, and will cure all colds.

"Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, etc." — Boston Transcript.

Sciatica Vanishes Instantly

Il Nervine is Used

CAN YOU BEAT THIS CASE?

No ordinary liniment will ever cure sciatica. Il Nervine is the most powerful kind of a remedy that can possibly be found to relieve the tissues and muscle.

It cures sciatica in a few days and on the old case.

Il Nervine is used in the following way:

Take a small amount of oil.

Put by a small amount of Il Nervine.

Apply Il Nervine to the part affected.

Il Nervine is a wonderful medicine.

THE REVIEW, CLARESHOLM, ALBERTA.

Seed Grain should be given Germination Test

Germination tests made on oats, wheat and barley this fall at the Do-show that there are considerable quantities of oats and barley, particularly in Alberta and Saskatchewan which are unfit for seed. The average percentage germination for Alberta Seed Laboratory, at Calgary, is 68 per cent, and none of the samples of Alberta oats received have germinated up to the standard which is 95 per cent. Moreover, the average preliminary count which is made at the end of six days is as low as 35 per cent. Good seed oats will give a preliminary count of 95 per cent, to 90 per cent, and a final (14 day) count of 90 per cent., to 85 per cent. of vital seeds. Samples of oats received from Saskatchewan are somewhat better. The average preliminary count is 50 per cent, and the average final count is 88 per cent. Many samples show evidence of frost injury, these always giving low percentages of vital seeds, both in the preliminary and final counts. All three barleys tested give very low germination percentages. The average preliminary (6 day) count is 32 per cent, and the average final (14 day) count is 76 per cent. These figures are very low and indicate that conditions of production in Alberta's oats and barley and Saskatchewan oats are weak in vitality and undesirable for seed purposes.

As one of the first essentials for a good crop of any kind is good seed, it is important that the farmer use a strong germination energy and a high percentage of germinable seeds should be used. The germination energy of a sample is indicated by the percentage of vital seeds which germinate during the first four days of the test. The preliminary count indicates the index of the germination energy. If, for example, the preliminary count on a sample of oats is 25 per cent, the germination energy of the sample is very poor. The average preliminary count is 90 per cent, the germination energy is strong. Two samples may vary as widely as this in the preliminary count but may contain the same percentage of vital seeds in which case the final counts would be the same. It is important that only seeds considered one of these samples should be thought to be good, the other, with in reality one is good seed and the other undesirable for use as seed. The sample with a high preliminary count will give undesirable weather conditions at the time of sowing very much better than the other. It will give a more even stand on the field and a crop which will in all probability ripen somewhat earlier.

Farmers should satisfy themselves before sowing time next spring that their seed grain is of the best quality. This can only be done by a germination test conducted either at home or at the Dominion Seed Laboratory. In Canada, 100 samples of varying size in number will be tested at the Seed Laboratory free of charge for any individual or company in one year. Above this number twenty-five cents per test is charged.

Samples of seed from Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia for test should be addressed to the Dominion Seed Laboratory, Box 1881, Calgary, Alberta, and postage paid at the post office receiving point. When oats, barley and seed of similar size, about half a tea cupful should be sent for test; for seeds of smaller size such as flax, red clover, turnip, etc., half this quantity is sufficient. If more than one sample of the same seed is sent for test they should bear some distinguishing mark or number.

Holy Vale—
I hope to send you a letter this evening. We are in tents here and it is snowing now and we are nearly frozen. I saw Fred Prentiss last night, he left to day for the front he looks fine and weighs two hundred pounds. We leave on Saturday afternoon and are sure glad to get out of here. I am staying so much longer due to bad telegraph wires. Gave test results to everyone and if you need big writing please do it in the following address:

Belgian Relief Fund

At the Public School

Lately an effort was made at the Public School to interest the pupils in the Belgian Relief schemes. They were asked to bring, of their own money, preferably, any amount they felt they could spare. The following magnificent donations were handed in:

Grade one ..... $ 1.40

Grades two and three ..... 3.20

Grades four and five ..... 7.00

Grades six and seven ..... 8.65

Grades eight and nine ..... 15.85

Grade ten (two) ..... .75

Total ..... $42.50

Have the children not set a good example to their elders!

Editor of Review.

Mr. Editor—Kindly allow me through your columns to express to the people of Claresholm my greatest thanks for their remembrance of Xmas. Christmas passed off rather quiet and a little dreary under the weather conditions, but nevertheless very bad, but we are looking forward to better times and brighter days. Thank you, Mr. Editor, for your space, I remain

Prepared to Test" Seed Grain

Owing to the great amount of hail in this district last year, doubtless considerable of the grain will be of low germination.

We wish to call the attention of all farmers to the fact that the Alberta Department of Agriculture is prepared to test seed grain for germination purposes. Farmers should, on their grain, before seeding, this sample is the one which they would prefer to test. The method of germination employed is standard and legal.
